Elders' Comments

Last Sunday was a most rewarding day with two good sermons and an informative report on the Lord's work in Guam, as well as other Pacific Islands by Joey Treat. Tara has long supported their work in Saipan, Palau, and now Guam. It is exciting to hear of the progress being made in the furtherance of the gospel when our missionaries come to keep us informed. Today, and most Sundays, we will be rewarded with two more sermons and a Bible class. Our new schedule is an opportunity for both spiritual and numerical growth. We welcome our visitors and encourage your return next Sunday.

THE IMPORTANCE OF OBEDIENCE

Man's submission to the will of God is one of the basic principles of the Bible. From the beginning of time, when Adam was placed in Eden, God established this principle with him, and with all his posterity until time shall be no more. God never has changed the principle of obedience; only what man is to do in his obedience has been changed. Obedience is just as important today as it ever was. Man never has been able to ignore, or set aside, any commandment of God. We are under divine obligation to obey every precept that applies to us. Of course, no one can keep every commandment perfectly at all times. If we could, salvation would be based on our own human merit. Nevertheless, we are under obligation to abide by every single commandment that applies to becoming a Christian, or in living the Christian life. Then, when we sin through weakness, and we do, we can be forgiven through the blood of Christ. (I John 1:7)

No one seems to misunderstand the fact that God commanded the patriarchs and those under the law to obey him. But for some reason some fail to see the importance of obedience today. Many see an entirely different God in the New Testament than they see in the Old Testament. God is a God of love, compassion and understanding. Through his grace he commands little and condemns little. To the contrary, the God of the Old Testament was a God of justice, vengeance and wrath. He commanded much, expected much and condemned much. Are these concepts of God correct? Neither idea is correct altogether. We serve the same God as did the patriarchs and the Jews. He is, and always has been, a God of love and justice; a God of compassion and vengeance; a God of peace and wrath. Paul exhorted, "Behold therefore the goodness and severity of God." (Rom.11:22)

Obedience is essential under Christ. "Not everyone who says to me, Lord, Lord, shall enter the kingdom of heaven, but he who does the will of my Father in heaven."(Matt.7:21) The wise and foolish men in the closing remarks of Jesus' sermon on the mountain illustrate the importance of obedience. (Matt.7:24-27) Jesus does not offer an optional way of life; He offers the only way of life. We become Christians by obedience to the will of God, and we remain Christians through continual obedience. (Phil.2:12) Contrary to these scriptures, many believe that obedience is not expected; work is not necessary; and fear and trembling are out of place in serving a loving God. However, Paul, by the Holy Spirit, taught differently. Some teach that obedience and grace are incompatible; however, the apostles taught differently. (cf. I Pet.1:13,14) Grace is not nullified by obedience; rather it is qualified by obedience. Let us be thankful for God's undeserved grace by which we will be saved, rather than by our own merit. Yet, we must also realize and accept the absolute essentiality of an obedient faith as the condition of saving grace. (Eph.2:6-10)
